What does the consistency of the topical hair formula like?

GEL - The hair gel formula has a gel-like consistency, made from propanediol, biotin, and Copasil silicone gel. It has no parabens, sulfates, alcohol, and propylene glycol. It has a mild shampoo-like fragrance. The pros of using a gel is it has greater adhesion to the scalp and does not run off your scalp. The active ingredients are slightly visible inside of the gel, so it will have a slightly gritty medicinal look. This is normal and just all of the active medications present in the formulation. Be sure to shake and invert the bottle 2 times per week to prevent settling of the medication.

SOLUTION - The hair solution is a liquid made from alcohol, propanediol, biotin. It has no parabens, sulfates, and propylene glycol. It has a mild shampoo-like fragrance. The liquid does have a tendency to run off your scalp when applying it. Shake well prior to using it.

Inactive ingredients in the hair gel/solution formula may include:

SOLUTION:

Menthol, Ethoxy Diglycol, Propanediol, Benzyl Alcohol, Butylated Hydroxytoluene, Peppermint Oil, Lavender Oil, DMSO,

GEL:

Should this product only be used on a bald spot or hairline, or over the entire scalp?

This product should be applied over the entire scalp. Even though some other products recommend application just on the bald spot or hairline, you may get additional hair benefits from whole scalp treatment than just spot treatment.

Can I use a dermaroller or derma pen with the topical hair formula?

Yes, we encourage using a dermaroller or derma pen 3-4 times per week to help enhance the penetration of the medication even more. Apply the hair formula after using the device. Using these tools properly along with the medication may optimize your hair growth results.

Can I use the hair formula with the iRestore laser helmet?

The topical formula is fine to use with the iRestore laser helmet. However, you should avoid using an oral vitamin A supplement with the helmet.

How much medication should I use?

Use enough medication to absorb and massage into your scalp for 30 seconds, start with 2 pumps and see if that is a good amount for your head. If you use too much medication it will clump up on your head. Wipe the excessive amount off and use less next time

What are the common side effects of Hair Loss Formula?

This is a topically applied medication, so very little of the medication will get into systemic circulation and whole body side effects should be rare. The most common side effects may include: itching, burning, flaking, dryness, scaling, changes in the color or texture of your hair, increased sensitivity to the sun, or irritation at the application site.

How should I use Hair Loss Formula?

Use the medicine exactly as directed. Using more medicine or applying it more often than prescribed will not make it work any faster, and may increase side effects. Do not take by mouth. Avoid getting this medication in your eyes or mouth, if this does occur, rinse with water. Apply daily to dry, clean scalp, and wash hands after application. Wash any non-treatment area that this medication may have accidentally come into contact with to avoid unwanted hair growth. Allow to dry thoroughly and wash off in the morning, or after at least 4 hours.

If I stop using the hair formula will my hair fall out?

Yes, more than likely. As with many hair loss treatments, the hair which was regained using the medication may regress once the treatment stops. Using the topical hair formula is usually a long-term commitment in order to maintain the hair benefits.

How do I store my Hair Loss Formula?

Store your Hair Loss Formula closed in its original container at room temperature in a dry environment, safely away from pets and children. Hair Loss Formula may contain finasteride, dutasteride, and tretinoin all of which are category X medications, thus can cause birth defects. For this reason, women who are currently or may be pregnant should not handle Hair Loss Formula.

When can I start to see results?

How fast results develop depends on many factors, including hair type, family genetics, lifestyle habits, stress, exercise, and your general nutritional status. Typically 2-3 months of daily continual usage may be long enough to see results if you are losing hair. If you have been bald for several years, it can take 4-6 months before you start to see results.

Note: We have helped many patients that have been completely bald or losing significant hair for 15-20 years by consistently using the topical hair formula, a hair vitamin (StrutVite) and a derma roller.
